

The share of households with consumer loans is slightly higher than the eurozone average.

Figure 5
The Share of Households with Consumer Loans, Israel and the Eurozone<sup>a</sup>, 2013–16
(percent)

<sup>a</sup> Eurozone countries excluding Lithuania and plus Poland and Hungary. The data on European countries are for 2013–15. The data for Israel are for 2016.

SOURCE: Eurozone–Eurosystem Household Finance and Consumption Survey, second wave (European Central Bank); Israel–based on Central Bureau of Statistics.